From the Ground Up

At Song Heng, everything begins with the raw ingredients. We source each component with purpose—matching the variety to the product to ensure the best flavor, aroma, and texture.

- For our pickled green mustard, we use a specific Thai cultivar known for its compact shape and large, rounded core. Though this variety is rare and grows in limited areas, it delivers the ideal bite and flavor that defines our signature taste.
- Our pickled limes are made from region-specific cultivars grown in GI-certified areas, selected for their distinct aroma and balanced acidity.
- For our pickled garlic, we choose only native Thai garlic, known for its distinct flavor and aroma—perfect for capturing the strong yet balanced flavor our products are known for.

We accept only fresh harvests delivered directly from farms within 24 hours, and all raw materials are required to comply with strict food safety standards in accordance with HACCP, ensuring they are clean, chemical-free, and safe for every bite.

Crafted with Care

At Song Heng, our production process is built on a balance between scale and sensitivity. While we operate on an industrial scale, our entire system is designed with the precision and thoughtfulness of handcrafted work—made possible because every machine in our facility is custom-designed for our needs.

Our factory supports high-volume production while maintaining the flexibility to adapt across product types and processes. Every step is governed by hygienic, food-safe practices that meet rigorous manufacturing standards.

We utilize an automation system across both production and inventory control. This enhances speed, accuracy, and efficiency, while minimizing errors and eliminating contamination risks.

In addition, we maintain a robust data-tracking system that records detailed production information—empowering us to plan better, respond faster, and continuously improve product development.

Rebranding

LOGO DEVELOPMENT

2025

In 2025, Song Heng undertook a major rebranding to clearly express our brand's stance, values, and intentions with greater clarity and consistency.

Our new logo reflects the deeper essence of who we are. The inner structure of the logo is inspired by the heart of a green mustard—paying homage to our beginnings in pickled green mustard.

The outline draws from the full, rounded form of a mature vegetable, combined with the shape of flame—representing dynamic energy, vitality and the connection to food.

These elements were refined with soft, flowing lines inspired by traditional Thai motifs, merging our brand's story with Thai design language.

We also revamped our packaging labels to ensure a cohesive brand system—making it easier for consumers to recognize, differentiate, and enjoy our products with confidence.

Beyond visuals, we have refined our entire communication approach to better express our commitment to quality, consistency, and the proud spirit of Thai identity that defines Song Heng.
